'POLICE USE OUR STREET AS CAR PARK'

FRUSTRATED residents claim they often struggle to park anywhere near their homes because police are using their street as a "park-and-ride" scheme.

People living in The Downs, Harlow, said officers and civilian staff are regularly spotted parking their own vehicles in the road before being picked up by patrol cars or walking the short distance to the town's police station in Crown Gate.

One resident, who asked to remain anonymous, told the Star: "We all thought the crime rate had shot up in recent months because of the huge number of patrol cars seen in our street, but it soon became clear that police were using the neighbourhood as an unofficial park-and-ride scheme.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"It was bad enough with shoppers parking here before heading into town, but the situation has got so bad now that people living here often can't find anywhere to park their own cars.

"It's crazy that the people making this problem worse are the police."

A neighbour added: "Imagine if I was to park in the police station car park for a 10-hour shift. I've got a feeling it wouldn't go down too well with the local constabulary!"

"Where I work I have to pay to park my car, so why is it that the police seem to be able to park wherever they like?"

The police station, which has its own private car park, is located a few hundred yards from The Downs and a stone's throw from the NCP multi-storey car park in Terminus Street.

But a police spokeswoman said that staff were fully entitled to park in the residential street as there were currently no parking restrictions in force in The Downs.

"As such, any motorist who has an insured and taxed vehicle is entitled to park

Don't mess with us, dog owners warned

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

DOG owners who fail to clean up after their pets could soon be hit with an on-the-spot fine as Harlow Council steps up efforts to keep the town's open spaces green and clean.

The authority's three Ranger patrols have been given the power to hand out £50 fixed penalty notices to owners who refuse to clear up their dogs' mess as part of a council crackdown on the problem.

They will be targeting the Bishopsfield Green area specifically following a raft of complaints from residents.

Ranger and dog teams will now spend an extra hour every day patrolling the green, armed with rolls of "pooper scooper" sacks and leaflets outlining the responsibility of dog owners.

Lynn Seward, Harlow Council's head of community and customer services, said: "This campaign is about educating pet owners about their responsibilities. But we also need to make it clear there is a zero tolerance approach to those who refuse to clean up after their dogs."

"The fact is that it is their obligation to clean up after their dog. Leaving the mess behind is not only unpleasant for others but also runs the risk of spreading diseases like toxocarasis, which can lead to eye damage."

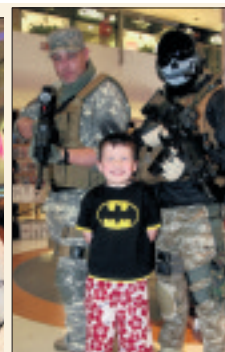

The Ranger teams will also be reminding residents that it is illegal to use the bins to dispose of any dog waste collected at home.

"This practice constitutes flytipping and owners should either bag dog waste with their domestic rubbish or dispose of it down the toilet," said a council spokesman.

Residents can report anyone they see failing to remove dog mess to Contact Harlow on (01279) 446655.

Sci-fi fans get to feel the Force!

FILM fans turned out in Force when the Harvey Centre plated host to a science fiction and fantasy extravaganza over the bank holiday weekend.

Hundreds flocked to 3Darts Comics & Collectables to meet stars including actors Dave Prowse, who played the part of Darth Vader in the Star Wars films, Warwick Davis (Return Of The Jedi and The Phantom Menace) and Rusty Goffe (Star Wars: A New Hope).

Also signing autographs was Brian Muir, the prop specialist who sculpted Darth Vader's helmet, and freelance comic book colourist John-Paul Bove.

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said: "We were delighted with the turnout for this always-popular annual event, especially as many Harlow residents were out enjoying the sunshine on the Royal wedding weekend."

Star Wars fans will be back at the centre on Saturday to meet Jeremy Bulloch, who played bounty hunter Boba Fett, when 3Darts hosts a comic day.

there," she said. "We would advise anyone doing so to be considerate to the residents who live there."

"There are a limited number of parking spaces at Harlow Police Station, as with any other premises in Harlow."

"Other large employers also face this problem and employees are left trying to find somewhere else to park."

She said residents who are unhappy with the situation could take the matter up with Harlow Council.

"Residents can take their concerns to the local council and ask for permit parking to be introduced if other people parking [in their neighbourhood] continues to be a problem," she added.

FEARLESS fundraisers with a head for heights helped raise a dizzying £49,000 for good causes at the 14th annual Church Langley Water Tower abseil over the weekend.

The event, organised by Harlow Tye Rotary Club and now in its 14th year, saw 184 people brave the 110ft drop in aid of 65 different charities and voluntary groups.

Among those who took part was Harlow woman Louise Burnham, who raised just over £500 for St Clare Hospice in memory of her brother-in-law, who passed away there earlier this year.

Sawbridgeworth resident Diane Kitson was the weekend's biggest individual fundraiser, pledging a whopping £1,700 to Great St Mary's Church.

One abseiler, David Dixon, travelled almost 350 miles from Workington in Cumbria to take part.

Event co-organiser Don Cramphorn said he was thrilled with its enduring success.

"We were very lucky with the glorious weather, although the high winds certainly didn't help nerves – and it was wonderful to see so many different charities and voluntary groups represented again.

"We're extremely grateful to our corporate sponsors Newhall Projects, Barnes Roffe Chartered Accountants and Mark David Kitchens in Sawbridgeworth for making the event possible."

Homes protestors to hold motorcade demonstration

ANGRY residents campaigning against controversial plans to build hundreds of homes on fields bordering Old Harlow are preparing to stage a protest on Saturday.

Hundreds of people are expected to join a march and motorcade from Gilden Way to the town centre to demonstrate their opposition to developers' plans for 1,200 homes, new shops and community facilities on the 49 hectare site.

Protestors plan to meet at the roundabout linking Gilden Way and Churchgate Street at 11am before making their way towards the town centre, taking a detour through Old Harlow on the way.

The event has been organised by the Churchgate Street Residents' Association, whose chairman Robin McCartney said he was confident of a big turnout.

"This development would destroy a cherished green space and people living in the area simply don't want it," he said.

"There have been plenty of meetings and letters written regarding the plans, but we felt it was high time to really make our point in the most public way possible.

"I'm hoping there will be a few hundred of us as long as the weather holds out. Hopefully it will raise public awareness of the level of opposition to these proposals."

Muggers pounce on man walking in park

A YOUNG man needed hospital treatment after he was the victim of a violent street robbery in Harlow.

The incident happened between 5.30pm and 5.55pm last Tuesday (April 26) as the 22-year-old walked through The Dashes park opposite the Garden Tiger pub in Maddox Road.

He was approached from behind by two black men who punched and kicked him, knocking him to the ground before stealing his wallet which contained a small amount of cash.

The victim suffered swelling and bruising to both eyes and a blood clot in his ear.

PC Louise Sheridan-Brown said: "This was a particularly nasty attack. I am keen to hear from anyone who was in the area at that time or who may have information to contact me."

Anyone with any information should call Harlow police on 0300 333 4444.

New start for youth club facing the axe

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

A YOUTH club for youngsters with disabilities has been re-launched as a jointly-run project between parents and Harlow Council.

Sam's Place, based at the Foldcroft Family Centre in Hobtoe Road, ran for the first time on Thursday under a new arrangement which sees two council-funded staff members work alongside parent volunteers to supervise the popular weekly sessions.

The future of the youth club, which runs activities for youngsters with special needs while providing their families with much-needed respite, had been in doubt after the council planned to axe the Thursday night and Saturday school holiday sessions to save £15,000 a year.

However, angry parents forced the council to rethink its strategy after starting a campaign against the proposals. As a result, an agreement to run the Thursday club jointly was reached three weeks later.

Adrian Broad, whose 14-year-old son Aaran attends the group, said: "It has all worked out really well and things seem quite positive at the moment."

"I give praise where it's due and have to say that both the parents and the council are all working really well together to make this work."

"It is a council-parent partnership and that makes all the difference. Finally we are being offered options rather than just being told what to do."

He added: "The most important

FLASHBACK: Star, March 10

thing is that Sam's Place is safe for another year and we managed to save it without the kids being affected. I'd hate to think what would have happened had it gone ahead and closed."

Lynn Seward, the council's head of customer and community services, attended Thursday's relaunch.

"We are delighted that we have now reached this point where the parents are working with us to provide the youth club sessions," she said.

"Back in March we listened to the parents concerns and together we put in place a workable compromise which means the sessions continue and the council saves the money it needs to."

"I would like to pay tribute to the parents who have shown a willingness to work with the council and commitment to making this work."

Don't miss the deadline to join this year's Harlow Race for Life

WITH less than a week until the deadline for entries for this year's Harlow Race for Life, organisers are making a final push to get more women to sign up.

Since the town hosted its first Race for Life back in 2002 more than 20,000 women have taken part, raising hundreds of thousands of pounds for Cancer Research UK's life-saving research.

Event manager Lucy Hynes said: "We are very grateful to the people of Harlow for all the support they have given us over the past 10 years."

"Thanks to their commitment, Cancer Research UK is able to fund research which is helping more men, women and children to survive cancer than ever before."

Organisers are hoping this year's event, which takes place in the Town Park on Sunday, May 15, will be the biggest and best yet.

"The atmosphere is always incredible at Harlow Race for Life but this year we're hoping for a 10-year birthday bonanza," said Lucy. "We need our Race for Life regulars, as well as women who took part years ago, to join together with many new faces on the big day."

She added: "Every hour, around three people are diagnosed with cancer in the east of England. When Race for Life started in 1994, many people diagnosed with cancer did not survive."

The Harlow Race for Life is supported by the Star. The closing date for entries is Wednesday, May 11.

Women of all ages and abilities can take part by running, jogging or walking the 5k or 10k routes. To enter, visit the website at www.raceforlife.org or call 0871 641 1111.

Stigma and isolation of crippling fatigue

COPING: Lynda Rusu, left, and Susan Parker have spoken about their experiences of ME

WITH ME Awareness Week due to start on Monday, two women have spoken of their experiences of the crippling chronic fatigue condition in a bid to increase public understanding.

Lynda Rusu (68), of Great Brays, Harlow, said her life had been on hold since she started caring for her son Paul (43), who was diagnosed with ME (myalgic encephalopathy) in 1995. Paul, who had first started to feel unwell three years earlier, had been suffering from chronic stomach problems and fatigue that was so severe he had to give up work in 1993. At the time his symptoms baffled doctors, who dismissed them as stress

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk or flu. "The problem with ME is that it has no set test to diagnose it," said Lynda. "When Paul started getting ill people thought that it was in his head. "It was almost a relief when he was finally diagnosed, but if I'd known then what we were really up against I might have thought very differently." Lynda said things rapidly went downhill after the diagnosis. "ME affects people in different ways, but for severe sufferers like Paul it can be very isolating," she said. "Socialising is difficult when you are feeling so ill, and when you're not able to get out or go to work you quickly become cut off from a society which doesn't understand what's wrong with you. "ME has ruined both mine and Paul's life. He has been housebound for years and my whole life revolves around caring for him. I dread to think what would become of him if I wasn't here." Susan Parker (58), of The Mallories, Harlow, was diagnosed with ME nearly 30 years ago. She said that by raising awareness of ME it will help to reduce the stigma attached to it. "ME sufferers don't necessarily look ill so people assume that you are ok, that you are just feeling a bit down. "But it isn't that at all. Before I got ill I was always happy and loved my job as a nurse. Now, I try to avoid anything social. I don't have the energy and feel pressured to put on a front to people. "I spend most of my life inside; it's an awful way to live." Despite having suffered the condition for so long, Susan still has hope that one day there will be a cure. "You always have to hope otherwise you would just give up on life," she said. "But until then we just really need people to understand that it is a genuine illness that genuinely ruins lives." ## Care home needs garden furniture

A CARE centre in Harlow is appealing for donations of garden equipment so elderly residents can enjoy the summer months outside. The Partridge Care Centre, which has 80 residents but just two garden tables and eight chairs, hopes Harlow residents will help by donating unwanted or spare pieces of furniture. Activity co-ordinator Debbie Bell said: "We have a lovely patio area for our residents but not enough furniture for them and currently have to shift all the indoor chairs outside every time the weather turns nice. "It would be fantastic if people could help by donating any garden furniture, ornaments, gazebos, parasols or anything similar that they no longer need." Residents can donate gardening equipment by either taking it to the centre in Partridge Road, or by calling Debbie on 07968 648380 to arrange for it to be collected.

Fun day for all at charity fundraiser

A HARLOW man is holding a charity football day this weekend in memory of a friend's mother who died of cancer. After the success of a similar fundraising day last year, Adam Sutton (25), of Milwards, decided to organise an even bigger event to raise £2,000 for Cancer Research UK and Great Ormond Street Hospital. "As well as the charity football match which anyone can join in, there will be loads of stalls and also a family disco in the evening. "We just want as many people as possible to come down and have a fun day whilst helping to support some really great causes." The event takes place at the Harlow Link in Parsloe Road on Sunday from 2.30-10.30pm. Tickets for the match cost £2 for adults and £1 for children (under 5s free), while a family ticket for the disco is £5. All can be purchased on the day or by calling 07864 559498.

Hospice lottery

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the weekly St Clare Hospice lottery is ticket holder 254453. The ticket holder lives in Harlow. The second prize of £100 goes to ticket holder 715811, who lives in Stansted.

Salons ready to put on a show

TWO hair and beauty salons in Harlow are giving their annual awards ceremony a twist by staging a hair and fashion show in aid of a children's charity. Avant Garde, in The Rows, and DG & Co, in Market House - along with two sister salons in Bishop's Stortford - have organised the entertainment evening in aid of the Annabelle Rose Foundation which provides help and support to families of children with spinal muscular atrophy. The event, which will also feature live music and a charity auction, will showcase styles created by staff from each of the salons, pieces made by students from Passmores School and clothes supplied by high-street retailers New Look and Monsoon.

Managing co-ordinator Kim Parrish said: "I am so excited about it that I smile every time it gets mentioned. We have received so much support and everything has gone really well so far so it should be a really great night." The event takes place at Seen nightclub in Harlow town centre on Monday, starting at 7pm. It is hoped more than 500 people will attend, helping the salons reach their fundraising target of £6,000. Tickets are still available for a suggested donation of £10 each and can be bought from the salons or by calling (01279) 434724 / 426111. Organisers are also appealing for donations for the charity auction. Email avantgardeharlow@live.co.uk if you can help.

Robber facing jail for setting up raid on van

A MAN involved in an ambush on a van driver has been warned to expect a jail sentence after he pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery.

The driver was lured to a remote location and then robbed by four masked men who stole thousands of pounds in cash and catalytic converters.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told the meeting was set up by Carl Salmon (26), of The Stow, Harlow, who was eventually traced through his mobile phone.

Victim Shaun Swinfield, who was driving for a licensed waste company, had been sent out with £8,500 to buy catalytic converters from pre-arranged pick-ups on June 15 last year. One of those was set up the day before by Salmon, who said he had 77 converters for sale.

James Hodivala, prosecuting, said that on the day of the robbery Mr Swinfield was running late and so he telephoned Salmon on the contact number supplied.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

Salmon then met him in Harlow shortly after midday and told Mr Swinfield to follow him. He led him down a side road to a remote area surrounded by fields.

"Mr Swinfield reversed into a little layby and almost as soon as the van came to rest another vehicle carrying four masked men screeched to a handbrake halt in front of the van," Mr Hodivala told the court. "These masked men jumped out and Mr Swinfield said he immediately feared for his life."

Mr Hodivala said one of the gang slapped Mr Swinfield's mobile phone out of his hand and then went to kick him in the face "as though he was kicking a football".

Mr Swinfield then remembered his dog was in the van and rushed to his vehicle. "He saw his dog with a man standing over who was about to hit the dog with a baseball bat," said Mr Hodivala. "Mr Swinfield intervened, he put his arm up and the bat struck him."

The terrified van driver then ran off, shouting to his dog to follow. After doing a circuit of the fields, he returned to Hastingswood Road and flagged down a woman motorist.

Mr Swinfield dialled 999 and, when police arrived, returned to his van. They found the cab had been ransacked and a cash box containing £6,250 and the catalytic converters were missing.

Police later traced the mobile phone used to arrange the pick-up to Salmon and arrested him.

The court was told the four masked men have not been found.

Judge Karen Walden-Smith adjourned sentence for reports but told Salmon, who has 28 previous convictions for 73 offences including burglary, that he would be going to prison.

She remanded him on bail until next month, telling him: "That will give you time to put your affairs in order."

News from Harlow Advice Centre

Getting help to deal with debt

THE economic slowdown has made it extremely difficult for some people to pay off loans, credit cards and, more worryingly, essential expenditure such as rent or mortgage payments which were manageable in better times.

Pay freezes and inflation have taken their toll. For some, changes such as redundancy, sickness or marital breakdown have caused problems.

The loss of interest on savings has contributed to financial difficulties for many pensioners. Others have struggled to manage on a low income for years, making it impossible to meet unexpected expenses without turning to credit.

Many people turn to high interest lenders without realising there are more affordable alternatives. Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice can provide information on low-interest or no-interest options available to some, including loans provided by not-for-profit organisations such as

Whatever your reason, join the Midnight Walk to help hospice

JULIE Sheard has a special reason for signing up to this year's Midnight Walk in aid of St Clare Hospice.

"My dad has been diagnosed with terminal liver cancer," said Julie, who has set herself a target of raising £100 in sponsorship. "Although he has done better than predicted, it is likely he will deteriorate and we will be calling on the wonderful support of St Clare Hospice in the near future."

Another preparing to take part is Kirsty Burling, whose uncle Alan was cared for at St Clare before his death last July.

"He had lived in Cornwall for a few years and when he was taken ill all his family were very worried," she said. "Nearer the end he was admitted to hospital in Cornwall and members of the family used to travel to be with him."

"We knew the amazing work that was done at St Clare as we were in Harlow and so we persuaded him to move. Once he arrived at St Clare he was very happy. He had his cheeky banter with the nurses and they played along and made him perk up when he was not feeling too great."

"He loved having photos and his own personal belongings around him. He settled in very well and it even started to feel like home. His family and friends came to see him whenever they could and at the end he had loved ones around him which I know he had been very happy about."

She added: "He was like a dad to me and I'm just happy to be able to do something in his memory and raise some money which will help other families in the way St Clare helped mine. I know he would be proud of me and he will be right there with me on the night."

Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for St Clare, said: "It's by hearing the stories from those who have experienced the care provided by the hospice that makes our fundraising events so important and raising the money so meaningful."

"Our biggest event is the Midnight Walk and each year thousands of ladies take to the streets and cycle paths around Harlow to paint the town pink and raise thousands of pounds towards the very special care our nurses and doctors provide free of charge."

The 10km walk around Harlow – which once again is supported by the Star – takes place on Saturday, June 18. It will start from the car park outside ASDA in The Water Gardens at 10.30pm. The entry fee is £15 per person and everyone taking part will receive a goody bag and 'I painted the town pink' T-shirt.

The evening begins with entertainment on stage from around 8pm with music and games. Shortly before the start of the walk there will be a Zumba-style warm-up session to get everyone in the mood.

ROYAL WEDDING

It's party time as

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW was awash with red, white and blue on Friday as residents turned out across the town to celebrate the Royal wedding.

Schools, community centres and shops joined in the fun, and at least 20 neighbourhoods staged their own parties, barbecues and fetes to mark the marriage of Prince William and Catherine Middleton.

Four roads – Churchfield, Challinor, Stile Croft and Ranulf Close – were closed to traffic so that residents could hold traditional street parties, while elderly residents marked the occasion with tea parties at the Leah Manning Centre in Park Lane and Sumners Farm Close

The celebrations for some lasted long into the night, with around 200 revellers enjoying a "right royal knees-up" with Chas Hodges – of Chas'n'Dave fame – at Fourth Avenue music venue The Square and others piling into pubs and clubs for live music, discos and karaoke.

Harlow Council got into the party spirit itself by handing out 40 "party in the box" kits containing hats, balloons, flags and bunting which were used to decorate street parties, school celebrations and other events.

Malcolm Morley, the council's chief executive, said: "Harlow is known for its community spirit and occasions like this really demonstrate that spirit.

"I'm delighted that the council was able to play its role in helping people to celebrate the Royal wedding by providing kits to over 30 different community events."

Hotshot tot is football club's youngest signing

A DUTCH toddler has become the youngest person ever to have been signed by a professional football club.

Eighteen-month-old Baerke van der Meij was snapped up by his local team VVV Venlo after the club's talent scouts watched a video clip of the budding footballer kicking balls into his toy box.

Baerke's dad had posted the film on the YouTube website where more than 150,000 people have watched the youngster showing off his ball skills.

The video clip shows him accurately chipping three balls into a toy chest.

His parents now hope he will follow in the footsteps of his footballing grandfather, who played for the same club.

VVV Venlo recently won promotion to the Eredivisie – Holland's equivalent of the Premier League – and acted swiftly to sign up the promising toddler on a 10-year contract.

A club spokesman joked with reporters: "The toddler's favourite position has not yet been determined."

But he added: "We can speak of a right-footed player with a very good kicking technique, perseverance and, importantly, football skills inherited from his grandfather."

Fun and films at the Odeon Saturday club

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

There were smiles all round when we published this picture of the winners of the Laughing Policeman competition held at the Harlow Odeon's Saturday morning club in the early 1970s.

After the photo was sent in by former policeman John Harvey, who can be seen in the middle as the competition judge, we asked if any readers recognised the other cheery souls in the photograph.

And Julia Stevens (49), of Harefield, got in touch to tell us one of the grinning contestants was her younger brother, Brandon Maher (circled).

"He must have been about five then and was obviously good at laughing," she said. "He was probably there because I took him. He used to follow me around everywhere at that time."

Julia, who grew up in the Hornbeams, said that she and all five of her siblings used to attend the cinema's Saturday morning club every week when they were growing up.

"It was a bit like a playscheme," she said. "It was really popular, everybody went there. When you arrived there would be a snake-like queue going around the room."

"We would watch a film and there would be all sorts of activities going on depending on what time of the year it was. I can remember making Easter bonnets and there being lots of competitions."

"I didn't enter the Laughing Policeman one then, though. I think I was too old, about 13."

She added: "Everyone looked forward to the club each week at school. It wasn't very expensive and at that time kids didn't hang out on the streets like they do now. We went to the Saturday club and had fun."

"It's a shame there isn't anything like that now."

Mum-of-six Julia said Brandon, who is now 41, moved to Helsinki 13 years ago and still lives there with his Finnish wife and two children.

25 years ago

Harlow has offered to help residents of its Norwegian twin town Stavanger, which lies in the path of the deadly Chernobyl radiation cloud. Council chairman Tom Farr said: "If a request is made from the Stavanger council we will accommodate their residents. The whole concept of twinning is sharing. This is a major disaster but very little is coming out of Russia; we are awaiting more news."

Chaos reigned in Harlow town centre on Tuesday lunchtime when a suspected bomb was discovered in the Terminus Street car park. Police set up road blocks and evacuated all shops and offices in the area. It was discovered to be a hoax and declared safe by the bomb squad two hours and 10 minutes after the alarm was raised Stewards School could soon be the only one in Essex to have its very own cottage in the countryside. Governors agreed last week to the lease of a cottage in the Northamptonshire which will provide an outdoor study centre. The cottage is situated in a forest two miles from the nearest road and will house 15 children with space for a further 30 to camp in the grounds.

Plans for a health club with sauna, trimnasium, spa and lounge have been given the green light by Harlow Council's planning committee. But the proposed club, in a vacant shop in Mulberry Green, will only be open from 9.30am-5pm Monday to Saturday after an application for a 10pm closing time was turned down.

PICTURE PUZZLE: The solution

AFTER we asked for help to identify the mystery house in this photograph which had been puzzling staff at the Museum of Harlow, we were inundated with suggestions.

One reader claimed it was in Station Road, Old Harlow, next to Barclays Bank. Another thought it had been in Redricks Lane between Gilston and Harlow.

However, the majority of those who got in touch came to the same conclusion as local history officer David Devine who, after reading the responses, has finally been able to file the picture away in the museum archives.

"The house has now been identified as Roydonbury," he said. "It gives its name to the nearby industrial area - Roydonbury Business Park - and is no longer there.

"We are currently trying to find out when it was built and when it was demolished. Currently I have a reference to it in 1908 and think it was demolished around 1990."

He added: "Thank you everyone for your help with the picture. It was another excellent response from Star readers."

Theatre stages relaunch party

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A POPULAR community theatre in Old Harlow has been officially relaunched after being spared an untimely curtain call.

The future of Victoria Hall Theatre looked bleak until a group set up to save it from closure struck a deal with Essex County Council to buy the historic building for £100,000 earlier this year.

The sale marked the culmination of five years of fundraising and 12 months of protracted negotiations for new owners Victoria Hall Performing Arts Association, a charitable trust of volunteers dedicated to safeguarding the building's future as a community theatre.

And on Saturday more than 100 theatre users and supporters came together at the Bury Road theatre to celebrate the relaunch with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and the unveiling of new signage.

VHPAA chairman Chris Jolly said the event was the perfect way to begin a new chapter in the building's history.

"It was a warm and friendly evening, the perfect way to herald the beginning of a new era for the theatre," he said.

"After such a long time and in the wake of so much support from the theatre-going community, it is fantastic to have Victoria Hall in the hands of those who manage and care for it.

"We are so grateful for the support and generous help given which will secure its future as an outstanding community theatre."

VHPAA is currently looking for local businesses interested in sponsoring the theatre to ensure its future at the heart of the community. To find out more, email vhpa.org@gmail.com.

Council seats up for grabs

VOTERS go to the polls today (Thursday) in local elections that could see Labour turn up the heat on Harlow Council's ruling Conservative administration.

Seats in each of the town's 11 wards are up for grabs with a total of 34 candidates standing.

Since last year's elections the Tories have lost two councillors - husband and wife Lee and Sarah Dangerfield - who resigned from their seats in the Staple Tye and Summers & Kingsmoor wards in November.

Mr Dangerfield's subsequent expulsion from his seat on Essex County Council for failing to attend any meetings in a six-month period means voters in the Harlow West division will also be asked to select a new county councillor.

The Star will be covering tonight's count at the Latton Bush Centre and will publish the results online at www.harlowstar.co.uk soon after they are declared.

May Fayre descends into scenes of chaos

THE centre of Sawbridgeworth was cleared by police after trouble broke out at the town's annual May Fayre celebrations on Sunday night.

Extra officers were sent to the scene at around 7.30pm to provide back-up for colleagues and deal with a "public order incident" following reports of a disturbance at the event.

Herts Constabulary's helicopter was scrambled to keep an eye on the situation and warn bystanders by loudspeaker that a dispersal order had been put in place.

Several arrests have been made and officers remained in the area until Monday to reassure residents. No-one is reported to have been hurt in the incident.

Superintendent Dave Rhodes, of Herts police, said: "I'd like to pass on my thanks to all those members of the public for their patience while officers carried out their duties."

"I'd also like to reassure the Sawbridgeworth community that we will robustly investigate the circumstances surrounding this incident and those offenders responsible will be brought to justice."

LINING Edinburgh Way in Harlow are a number of large glass fronted buildings showing off the latest offerings from some of the world's most famous car manufacturers.

But hidden away down a side road close to Templefields is a single storey building where something more special than the average family hatchback is manufactured and sold.

Welcome to the home of DJ Sportscars International Ltd, better known as DAX Cars. It is Harlow's very own sports car manufacturer.

DAX have a long history in Harlow. The company was started by Derek Johns in 1966 and was initially based in Ware. When he sold the company to his brother, Brian, two years later DAX made the move to their current site on Edinburgh Place. The year was 1981.

Following Brian's retirement four years ago, he sold the company on to his son, Simon, who still runs it today in what is his 21st year at DAX.

But Brian's retirement was short-lived and after only a year both he and his wife, Pam, returned to work two days a week.

Originally the company was a fibreglass fabricator, but in 1981 they started producing replica fibreglass bodies of the AC Cobra for re-bodying Reliant Scimitars.

Two years later demand was so great that they decided to put their own chassis into production. Some 30 years later the Cobra replica, known as the 427, is still produced by DAX.

The 427 is the company's flagship model and is sold as either in kit form or as a rolling chassis. The average build cost of a 427 is in the region of £25,000-£30,000.

It may seem a lot of money but considering this is a car possible of achieving 0-60mph in under four seconds, it's supercar performance without the price tag.

Even so, this is not a car that sells on performance alone.

"I still think to this day it's an incredibly beautiful looking car," said Simon. "There's so much mass-produced plastic from the major manufacturers around that when something like this is on the market it's obviously different."

The visual appeal of the design and the impressive performance has had a huge impact on the type of person who buys the Cobra. "I can understand people in their 60s or 70s who saw them racing around Le Mans when they were 10 years old, but it's moved on a generation," said Simon. "Most of the customers we get walking through the door are in their 30s or 40s nowadays."

"It's completely surprising that people have got this dream to build this sort of car. I wouldn't have thought there were that many people in my generation who were familiar with the whole concept of the Cobra."

Over the past 30 years the 427 has been continually updated and that still goes on today. It's now possible to get a 427 with air conditioning, power steering and a removable hardtop.

The firm expanded its model line-up in 1991 with the introduction of

The £25k sports car that can be built from a kit

the Rush, a Lotus Seven-style lightweight sports car offering enthusiasts a more hardcore driving experience.

Every component for both kits can be purchased directly from DAX. While some builders take this option, others are happy to source parts from different suppliers to ensure their car matches their own unique tastes or budget.

While both models are offered in kit form or rolling chassis there is a third option for those who feel building a car is beyond them – get someone else to build it for you!

Dressed to thrill in a 'ladies' night out

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

GET glammed up for a divalicious night out with Britain's leading female impersonator at Harlow Playhouse next week.

Fabulous, flamboyant and camper than a row of tents, Ceri Dupree sashays into the town centre theatre on Thursday night to bring a touch of Las Vegas-style glitz and glamour to the stage in critically acclaimed new show One Man, One Dozen Divas.

Ceri has established himself as an entertainer of international repute during a 25-year career that has seen him perform for audiences worldwide in musicals, pantomime, cabaret shows and on television.

As the name of his latest show suggests, it promises to be an evening of costume-hopping fun, featuring hilarious vocal and visual impersonations of superstars including Cher, Joan Collins, Amy Winehouse, Tina Turner and even the Queen.

Playhouse manager Scott Ramsay said: "Ceri Dupree's shows are wonderfully entertaining and a real sight to behold. The late Danny La Rue would be proud."

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £17 (£15 concessions). They are available from the box office on (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Players given special permission to stage updated revival of award-winning drama

CLARE QULEY

A LONG association with an internationally-renowned playwright and one-time local teacher has given a Harlow drama group the opportunity to stage a special adaptation of an award-winning play.

Moot House Players present Brian Clark's Whose Life Is It Anyway? at Moot Hall next week.

And, as a former member of the Players himself, the playwright has granted them special permission to stage an updated version of the play – one of the first am-dram groups in the UK to be given the opportunity to do so.

Sensitively exploring the complex and contentious issue of voluntary euthanasia, the play was originally written for television in 1972 and has enjoyed several revivals since, most notably as a 1981 film starring Richard Dreyfuss and a 1978 stage play with Tom Conti in the lead role.

Set in a hospital room, the drama is centred on sculptor Claire Harrison, who was paralysed from the neck down in an horrific car accident and is now determined to be allowed to die. Clark presents thought-provoking arguments both in favour of and against euthanasia and explores to what extent government should be allowed to interfere in the life of a private citizen.

Claire Quley takes the central role in MHP's new production and the strong supporting cast includes regulars Dan Powell, Ross Baron, Michael Rees, Karen Clark and Jennifer Southwell.

Director Tony Edwards, who took the lead role in the Players' original 1982 production, told the Star: "We urge people to see this play as, given the recent challenges to the law, the issues it addresses are even more relevant today than when Whose Life Is It Anyway? was originally written in 1972."

● Whose Life Is It Anyway? will be staged at Moot Hall in The Stow from next Thursday (May 12) until Saturday, May 14. Performances start at 8pm and tickets costing £8 (£6 unwaged) are available from the box office on (01279) 639170.

Forbidden love in the world of the Big Top

WATER FOR ELEPHANTS certificate 12A, 2hrs

TWILIGHT pin-up Robert Pattinson puts a little colour in his cheeks for Francis Lawrence's gorgeously framed adaptation of the novel about a doomed love affair in a 1930s circus troupe.

Water For Elephants opens in the present day with nonagenarian Jacob Jankowski (Hal Holbrook) arriving at a circus managed by Charlie (Paul Schneider). At first Charlie thinks that the confused old man has strayed from a care home, but it soon transpires that Jacob spent his formative years with the infamous Benzini Bros Circus.

With a glass of liquor in hand, Jacob begins to recount his incredible life story, stepping back in time seven decades to his student days at Cornell University. Poised to take his final veterinary exam, Jacob (now played by Pattinson) learns that his parents have been killed in a car accident and abandons his studies. With debts to pay and no roof over his head, the young man hitches a ride on a passing train, unaware it belongs to the circus run by August Rosenbluth (Christoph Waltz).

The tyrant physically and mentally abuses animals and performers, including his beautiful wife Marlena (Reece Witherspoon) who rides the horses. When Jacob falls under Marlena's spell, he tries to resist his feelings, working alongside the wife to win the trust of a special elephant.

However, when August notices the way that the young man stares at Marlena, he exacts a horrific revenge.

Water For Elephants casts a spell with its arresting visuals and the cast looks ravishing through a soft-focus lens. Cinematographer Rodrigo Prieto, who previously shot Brokeback Mountain, provides a picturesque canvas for Richard LaGravenese's elegant, chronologically fractured screenplay.

Pattinson and Witherspoon's dream romance contrasts with another despicable villain from Waltz, who won an Oscar for his blistering portrayal of a sadistic Nazi officer in Inglourious Basterds.

Pattinson acquits himself well, playing to his strengths – angst-ridden glances straight into the camera – as one point of a volatile love triangle that is destined to end in tragedy. He demonstrates impressive emotional range and although screen chemistry with Witherspoon doesn't exactly set our hearts aflutter, they are an attractive pairing.

TRUNK CALL: Robert Pattinson and Reese Witherspoon star in WATER FOR ELEPHANTS

HANNA certificate 12A, 1h51m

SIXTEEN-year-old Hanna (Saoirse Ronan) lives in snowbound Scandinavia with her father Erik (Eric Bana), honing the fighting skills she will need for the perilous mission that lies ahead – to kill ruthless CIA agent Marissa Wiegler (Cate Blanchett). Once she is trained and primed for action, Hanna bids farewell to her father and embarks on her quest to kill Wiegler with trained assassin Isaacs (Tom Hollander) and his henchmen on her trail.

En route, Hanna meets hippie mother Rachel (Olivia Williams), her despairing husband Sebastian (Jason Fletmyng) and their sassy teenage daughter, Sophie (Jessica Barden), who is at that difficult age when everything her parents say is wrong.

Hanna plays out a Bourne Identity-style game of cat and mouse between the plucky teenager and her pursuers, including a breathless chase through a ship container yard that benefits from energetic editing.

RACHEL (Ginnifer Goodwin) works as an attorney at a top New York law firm where she has steadily climbed the corporate ladder.

Outside of the office she is a loyal friend to Darcy (Kate Hudson), who is preparing to marry her handsome fiancé Dex (Colin Egglesfield).

Poor Rachel has been single for years, as Darcy takes great delight in reminding her, and the only man in her life is her trusted confidant Ethan (John Krasinski), who is doing everything within his powers to escape the clutches of Rachel's gal pal, Claire (Ashley Williams).

After her 30th birthday celebrations, Rachel enjoys an intimate moment with Dex, who she has fancied since law school. The sparks of attraction are obvious but they both agree that it can go no further for the sake of Rachel's friendship with Darcy. However, raging desire trumps common sense.

Thor (3D & 2D) In the fantastic realm of Asgard ruled by Odin (Anthony Hopkins) and his wife Frigga (Rene Russo), Thor (Chris Hemsworth) is an arrogant heir to the throne. He acts first and thinks later, endangering the lives of his trusty companions Volstagg (Ray Stevenson), Sif (Jaimie Alexander), Hogun (Tadanobu Asano) and Fandral (Joshua Dallas) by launching a suicidal attack on the Frost Giants led by the menacing Laufey (Colm Feore). Odin strips his son of his powers and his legendary war hammer, and dispatches him to Earth as punishment. There, the fallen god befriends scientist Erik Selvig (Stellan Skarsgård), protegee Jane Foster (Natalie Portman) and intern Darcy (Kat Dennings). The spark of attraction between Thor and Jane is palpable but without his powers, the fallen god must face the same trials and tribulations as any other mortal.

Arthur Arthur Bach (Russell Brand) is heir to his family's vast fortune which is presided over by his emotionally cold mother, Vivienne (Geraldine James). She informs Arthur that he will marry corporate executive Susan Johnson (Jennifer Garner) to ensure she can take charge of the company. If Arthur refuses, he will be cut off from his inheritance and the privileged lifestyle he has known since birth. Arthur resigns himself to marital hell, only to run into tour guide and aspiring author Naomi (Greta Gerwig). Arthur goes ahead with the nuptials while secretly seeing Naomi, aided and abetted by his nanny Hobson (Helen Mirren) and chauffeur Bitterman (Luis Guzman).

Fast & Furious 5 Former detective Brian O'Conner (Paul Walker) and lover Mia Toretto (Jordana Brewster) spring her brother Dominic (Vin Diesel) from a prison bus and hide out in Rio with Dom's childhood friend, Vince (Matt Schulze). The fugitives are double-crossed by drug lord Reyes (Joaquim De Almeida) and they vow revenge by plotting to steal $100m of the corrupt businessman's ill-gotten gains.

Rio Blu (voiced by Jesse Eisenberg) is a domesticated blue macaw who lives in relative luxury in the sleepy community of Moose Lake, Minnesota. That is until Brazilian conservationist Tulio (Rodrigo Santoro) arrives in Moose Lake to ask Blu's owner, Linda, to take Blu to Rio de Janeiro so the bird can mate with the only known female blue macaw, Jewel (Anne Hathaway). Soon after Blu meets Jewel the birds are kidnapped by greedy animal smugglers led by the nefarious Marcel (Carlos Ponce).

Prospects are grim for both the national side and Botham's career, and the bookies offer odds of 500-1 against them winning. THIS week's cover property in Silver Street, Stansted, is a fine example of contemporary living at its best.

Built in 2003, the house has been designed to maximise the use of light and space, providing generous room sizes in a sensible layout. It is a home that will suit the modern family very well.

The property is in immaculate condition and is laid out across three floors. There is a large hall with solid oak flooring and three very good size reception rooms – a living room with two sets of French doors which open onto the elegant rear garden, a family room and a dining room.

The spacious, bespoke maple kitchen and breakfast room plays a large part in this house's wow factor. Off the kitchen is a laundry/utility room and there is also a downstairs cloakroom.

Stairs from the hall lead to the light and airy first floor landing and into the impressive master bedroom suite with its dressing room and very elegant en-suite bath and shower room. Also on the first floor are another two double bedrooms and a shower room.

The second floor offers a large landing space suitable for office use, two more double bedrooms and a luxury spa bathroom.

The property is approached via electric gates, giving access to a small private gated courtyard community with access to a private driveway and parking for at least four vehicles.

There is also a detached double garage with electric door and plenty of storage space.

Silver Street is a short walk from the mainline railway station in Stansted as well as a range of local shops for your everyday needs and a number of restaurants.

Tracey Waples
Property Editor

A FRIEND of mine recently put her home on the market and has spent a fair amount of time and money ensuring the house is 'fit for sale'.

Having lived in the property with her family for almost two decades, she has complained about the unmanageable garden, tired shower and crumbling patio for years and was delighted when her husband finally agreed to her pleas to move.

Now she's finished the sprucing up she's saying the house has never looked better and is wondering whether to stay put. There's no pleasing some people!

Opinions differ considerably when it comes to what is known as 'property staging'. There are those who believe that if minor repairs need carrying out, a serious buyer will look past that. And if the internal décor is not quite up to date, who cares as the new owners will change everything to suit their own taste anyway.

On the other side of the fence are those who believe house sellers can do with all the help they can get when it comes to attracting buyers.

It doesn't need to stop at a little bit of painting or regrouting, either. There are companies out there who will present your property professionally, promising their efforts will help you achieve a faster sale and a greater return on your investment.

Having spoken to several local vendors, I would agree that by spending a little time and money to have your property 'show ready' will certainly increase your chances of selling and getting people through the door.

It might not have been so important a few years ago when there were more investors looking to make a quick profit by flipping the property, but in today's market things are a little different.

Just be sensible. Remember, you're just smartening up existing premises, not redecorating for your own long-term use.

One 'L' of a high-spec pick-up

MITSUBISHI'S L200 pick-up has a rich history in the UK pick-up market, mopping up over 45 per cent of total sales in its 2003 heyday.

Today's curvier version faces far stiffer competition from rival products, hence the continual attempts to improve it. The latest models move the game on again, offering a high specification and a generous helping of flash for the cash.

The L200 does the lifestyle pick-up thing better than any other model. It offers more adventurous styling and high spec versions called Warrior and Barbarian with lots of equipment.

Mitsubishi's innovation was focusing on the pick-up truck as a leisure vehicle as well as a working one. The tax advantages accrued by people using one for family duties and as a company car proved highly attractive and Mitsubishi's chrome tinged L200 double cabs had the practicality and the attitude for this varied role.

Today, pick-up buyers have more options than ever; whether they're after a rugged workhorse or leather and chrome clad lifestyle model with a macho title emblazoned on its flank.

Whichever L200 model you choose – and there are quite a few of them – there's a 2.5-litre common-

Mitsubishi L200 range

Price: £13,249-£28,064 rail injection diesel engine up front doing the hard work. In standard form, this engine turns in a healthy 134bhp at 2,000rpm but a high power option is also available that tickles the output up to a macho 175bhp in manual form.

The five-speed manual gearbox comes as standard but a five-speed automatic is also offered that features a Sport mode with more aggressive shift mapping.

The L200 rides on a no-nonsense ladder frame chassis with multi-link front suspension and heavy duty leaf springs at the rear. It's the standard set-up in the pick-up world and what it lacks in finesse on the Tarmac it makes up for in strength and ability in the rough.

Pick-up ride quality always leaves something to be desired compared to 4x4 passenger cars, but the L200 doesn't do too badly. It's not the best UK-market pick-up to drive but it is one of the most manoeuvrable with a tight 5.9m turning circle.

Some pick-ups have entry level front-wheel drive versions but not the L200. Whether it's the Easy Select 4WD system on the entry-level models or the Super Select 4WD set-up on the range-topping versions, all have all-wheel-drive. Curves are not things we're used to seeing on pick-up trucks but the L200 is smothered in them. The familiar Mitsubishi front end is softened with a thick, moulded bumper and a thin slash across the nose housing grille and headlamps. The rear edge of the cab curls down and around to join the sills, while the liquid lines of the tailgate and windows are a world away from those on the L200's boxy rivals.

There's just as much effort been made inside, the lines of the dash arching to mimic those of the bodywork. But the quality of the plastics isn't great and there's the impression that the shiny surfaces might not stand up to heavy use very well.

There are three basic bodystyles to mull over. The single cab is reserved very much for businesses that need a proper old school working pick-up. Its traditional two seats and extensive 2,220mm load length mean it prioritises cargo over cabin and it's only offered in the base trims.

The second option is the Club cab. This is for single cab customers who might occasionally need to transport more than one passenger. It offers a 1,805mm load length with additional capacity behind the cabin's front seats for secure storage or to seat a couple of small ones.

Most L200 customers opt for a double cab body, a variant offered in any trim level you like. This is a four-door five-seater model with a decent amount of legroom for the rear passengers and seat backs angled at a comfortable 25 degrees. There has to be a compromise for this extra passenger space and it comes in the shape of a modest 1,325mm load length in standard guise. The solution is the Long Bed version of this model with an extra 18cms of load length.

The L200 trim level range reflects its goal of catering for business and private buyers. You have 4Work models at the base off the range equipped only with the basics. That means CD stereo, steel wheels, and the basic Easy Select 4x4 system. 4Life is a little plusher with air-conditioning, electric windows and keyless entry but still has the utilitarian feel. Beyond that, we reach the high series L200s, all of which feature the M-ASTC traction and stability control system as standard which is a really useful addition. The Warrior also features 17-inch alloy wheels, body-coloured wheel-arches, cruise control and climate control. The Barbarian is actually rather civilised, adding a colour screen satellite navigation system, a reversing camera, full leather trim and numerous styling accessories.

Competition is fiercer than ever in the UK pick-up sector but Mitsubishi's L200 is competitive with the best models out there in most of the key areas.

At the lifestyle-orientated end of the market where image and styling are so important, it has a distinct advantage with its curvy lines and clever marketing. Interior quality could be better but this shortcoming is partly masked by the high equipment levels and being smaller than many rivals aids manoeuvrability.

A wide range mixing affordable workhorse models and plush range toppers will help, as will the thousands of pick-up buyers out there who have owned L200s in the past.

TOYOTA HYBRID CHALLENGE: HOW LOW CAN YOU GO?

Prizes on offer for drivers who can coax the best mpg from Prius and Auris

Prizes on offer for drivers who can coax the best mpg from Prius and Auris

Rising prices have made fuel economy a hot topic, so it's perfect timing for Toyota to be promoting the benefits of its hybrids - present and future.

Drivers are being encouraged to put the fuel efficiency of Toyota's Prius and Auris hybrid to the test in a challenge to see who can achieve the best mpg. Toyota centres across the UK are hosting the competition, each with their own set route and time limit. A Top Gear-style leaderboard will keep track of the local results, with prizes going to each centre's best-performing entrant.

Official combined cycle figures are 72.4mpg for Prius and 74.3mpg for Auris hybrid, but significantly better consumption has been recorded for both models in independent economy drive events.

The Hills of Bishop's Stortford challenge runs throughout 4 days in May, and all drivers are welcome to take part from Thursday 5th May until the Sunday 8th May!

Toyota Hybrid Challenge.

Become the star in our fuel efficient car at Hills of Bishop's Stortford.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Call Adrian or Mark on 01707 391333

Brayley then engineered space on the right before he rifled into the far corner on 115 minutes.

Chapman added: "We got on top late on [in normal time] and their keeper's save from Roget was very good – we were hoping for a winner."

Rockets ace Bowen in horror crash

been plagued by injuries, clipped partner Ben Morley's rear wheel when heading out of the second bend in Heat 2 of the away meeting, which Rockets lost 49-47.

Both Bowen, left, and teammate Jason Doyle were sent flying into the dirt, with Bowen coming off worse. It was initially thought that the rider, dubbed the Harlow Flyer, had suffered only severe bruising, but x-rays later confirmed a broken vertebra which will see him out of action for a number of weeks.

Rockets promoter Len Silver said: "It's a big blow for us. Luke was due to have a scan late on Tuesday but even if it's just a simple break he will be out for at least six weeks.

In the return meeting at Hoddesdon later that evening – which Rockets won 45-34 – disaster struck again.

In Heat 13 Doyle spiralled on his bike and, when chasing Chris Schramm for third place, suffered a badly dislocated shoulder while trying to keep hold of the handlebars.

Because it was past 10pm and there would be a delay until a replacement ambulance arrived, the referee had little alternative but to call a halt to the proceedings, although the result will stand.

"Jason was in tremendous pain and we had no option but to call off the meeting," added Silver.

Hawks fail to home in on third place

Needham Market 1, Harlow Tn 1

Ryman, division one north

HARLOW Town secured fourth spot in the table after a 1-1 draw in their final game in Suffolk on Saturday.

However, Hawks were left counting the cost of failing to win this match which would have given them home advantage against Wingate & Finchley in the play-off semi-final three days later.

Wingate's 3-2 victory at Brentwood on Saturday, meant they leapfrogged Harlow to finish in third spot.

It took just three minutes for Harlow to have their first real opportunity with Dave Cowley's superb ball over the top chased by Bertie Brayley who fired just wide of the right upright.

Brayley had another chance minutes later but his lobbed effort hit a post and went wide.

Another Cowley cross caused the back four problems and left-back Ben Wake nearly headed the ball into his own goal, the effort whizzing just over the bar.

Harlow went ahead on 25 minutes when Cowley picked up a loose ball on the edge of the box. His 12-yard shot bobbed and went under Needham's former Bishop's Stortford keeper Danny Gay and into the net.

The visitors were pinned back in their own half for much of the opening stages of the second period.

Despite bringing on James Peagram for Brayley, the Hawks were unable to double their advantage.

Mark Taylor replaced Donny Barnard shortly after the hour mark and made an important clearance as Christy Finch looked certain to score after cutting in from the left.

However, Finch made amends when he equalised with a superb strike for Needham on 63 minutes.

Winger Luke Marshall replaced Steve Ferguson on 74 minutes and his determined attitude was exactly what Harlow needed.

With one minute left on the clock, Marshall played a great ball across the face of goal but Peagram was unable to stab in a winner after causing havoc in the box.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "We were the better side in the first 35 minutes and nobody could have complained if we had been two or three-nil up at half-time."

"James Hasell could have done nothing with their equaliser. It was a very good shot. It was a pleasing performance."

Chapman was not too despondent about missing out on third spot and home advantage in the play-off semi-final.

He added: "We have done better away from home this season. I would also like to thank the fans for their fantastic support over the course of the season."

HARLOW TN: Hasell, Barnard (Taylor 64), D. Brown, Roget, Stewart, Kilapi, Ferguson (Marshall 74), Lalite, Brayley (Peagram 60), Roache, Cowley.

Dux quack up in late play-off loss

HARLOW Hawks 71, Aylesbury Dux 57
Herts Basketball League, div one play-off qualifier

Harlow Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz is confident Harlow can cause an upset in their quarter-final play-off at division one winners Ware Jokers this Sunday (7.30pm tip-off).

This was after the Hawks beat Aylesbury Dux by 14 points at home in their division one play-off qualifier last Wednesday.

Niaz said: "This is the only bit of silverware left to be won and if we put in the performance like we did in the first and final quarters of this game then we have a chance."

Aylesbury took an early 5-2 lead, but Hawks fought back.

S. Niaz got three three-pointers and was backed up by Nick Moss who claimed eight points in the first quarter.

Harlow took a 22-11 lead into the second quarter before Dux stormed back.

A late three-pointer from S. Niaz put Harlow 32-28 ahead at the halfway stage.

The third quarter saw both teams score 15 points each with all of the Dux points coming from the inside.

Moss and S. Niaz provided the outside scores while Ayo Oyerinde and Simon Atkinson struck on the inside for Harlow.

Hawks carried a slender four-point lead into the final passage of action with the score nicely balanced at 47-43.

Hawks came out flying in the final quarter with plenty of fast break scores.

S. Niaz and Dave Spashett continued to do the damage from deep while Moss attacked near the hoop.

Dux had little response to the Hawks' relentless pressure as the hosts ran out convincing winners 71-57 to keep their season alive.

HARLOW HAWKS: S. Niaz (22pts), Moss (21pts), Spashett (14pts), Allan (5pts), Z. Niaz (5pts), Atkinson (2pts), Oyerinde (2pts), Jones, Burgess.

Ghurka joy for taekwondo star

MIDDLEWEIGHT John Smallbone claimed a silver medal at the second international Ghurkha Open Taekwondo Championships.

Smallbone, the chief instructor for Hadri Taekwondo Academy's new Harlow centre, was competing at Harrow, Middlesex, following a year's recuperation after anterior cruciate ligament replacement surgery.

Smallbone, from Brocklemead, Harlow, was then denied a two-point kick in the dying seconds, costing him the gold medal. He had won two contests to get to the final.

The 22 year-old, who won the British Championships in the middleweight category in 2009, said: "I was pleased. I lost to a seasoned competitor and I'm confident I can win at the British Championships this year."

He opened Hadri Taekwondo Academy's Harlow centre at Burnt Mill School earlier this year.

Medal for Hunt at GB Uni Champs

MARCUS Hunt set a personal best (PB) time when he claimed a silver medal in the 400m at the British University CS Track and Field Athletics Championships.

The 20-year-old Harlow runner was representing Loughborough University at Bedford International Stadium last weekend.

Hunt clocked 47.92 seconds when he came second in the 400m final, surpassing his previous PB of 48.10s.

This time placed him 7th in the U-23 UK rankings and 15th overall.

Earlier, Hunt posted the third fastest heat time of 49.3s before he won his semi-final in 48.98s.

Hunt had clinched his spot after claiming two third places in the Lee Valley and Loughborough Open events, clocking 49.4s and 49.17s respectively.

Mark Hall School pupil Canaan Solomon (12) won the Essex U-13 boys 1,500m title with a PB of 4:44.8s.

He had earlier clocked 5:08 in a heat.

Burnt Mill student Perry Rowan (14) equalled his PB of 4:34 when he came 4th in the U-15 1,500m boys final.

Eleanor Moss (13), a Passmore student, came 4th in the U-15 girls javelin with a throw of 22.51m.

Burnt Mill's Amelia Barrett (14) ran 5:08 twice in one day in the 1,500m, finishing 6th in the U-15 girls final.

Mark Hall pupil Jodi Ratcliff (12) gained a creditable 6th (4:26.7) in the U-13 girls 1,200m final.

Town crush rivals in opening game

Bishop's Stortford III 166-8, Harlow Tn 167-2

Harlow Tn won by eight wickets

Herts & Essex Cricket League, div one

PAT Yates hit an unbeaten 78 and Scott Alderson struck an undefeated half-century as Harlow Town opened their Herts & Essex Cricket League account with a crushing win at Bishop's Stortford III in division one.

After Stortford made just 166-7 from their 45 overs on Saturday, Yates' knock set the visitors on the way to the victory target which they reached with a whopping 9.2 overs to spare.

Town managed to recover from the early loss of Jason Gladwin for a duck, who was bowled by Sanjay Cheema.

When Ramaya Upadhyay was caught out for just 20 the game was left in the balance.

However, an unbroken third-wicket partnership of 111 between Yates and Alderson was the key as Harlow triumphed by eight wickets.

Alderson finished on 53 not out.

Town had earlier lost the toss and Stortford elected to bat.

Despite some early season nerves with the ball, Town eventually found their range and Stortford struggled to make inroads with the bat.

Dan Calver (3-15) was the pick of the bowlers, but the rest of the attack chipped in with timely wickets.

Only Neil Chappell (62) and Tom Cattell (32 not out) showed any form with the bat for Stortford.

'We'll be back!'

Town boss wants the title next term

DANNY Chapman is determined that the Hawks bounce back next season and lift the title after their promotion play-off bid from Ryman division one north ended in failure.

Harlow Town's boss was visibly hurt, yet proud after seeing his team unable to qualify for the play-off final.

Their brave battle to gain promotion ended after they lost 4-2 following extra-time in the play-off semi-final at Wingate & Finchley on Tuesday.

Chapman said: "We will be back bigger and stronger next year. We want to be challenging for the title next year."

The Hawks boss was previously the assistant manager and had taken over from Kevin Warren after the latter stood down from the managerial hot seat in late January.

Chapman said: "We were 14th then and we can be really proud of what we have done in the last three months.

"I would like to thank John Barnett (club chairman) and Magnus Peterson (director) for giving me the opportunity to do it. I would like to do it [be manager] again next year."

He added: "The players have responded to what Christian Wheeler [assistant] and I have wanted them to do. I am proud to be their manager."

"Christian Wheeler has been really helpful and [Hawks co-owner] Tom Cunningham's help has been vital."

Chapman sought comfort from where the club has come from in a year. After struggling financially, they finished bottom of the table last season and only avoided the drop into the Essex Senior League because VCD Athletic's ground did not meet requirements, so they went down instead.

Chapman added: "We were on the verge of bankruptcy last year and a season later we are in a healthy financial state. Rome was not built in a day."

Chapman hopes to meet up with the players individually within the next week or so to discuss their futures at the club.

Meanwhile, Hawks co-owner Cunningham feels that Chapman has a very good chance of being given the Harlow Town manager's job permanently next season.

He said: "Considering he is a rookie manager, he has done an amazing job. He has taken over an under-performing team and to finish fourth and get into the play-offs is nothing short of miraculous."

"I have yet to have a meeting with John Barnett and Magnus Peterson to discuss the manager's position for next year."

He added: "You have to remember that we have built a team within a year and have risen from the ashes like a phoenix."

"The likes of Brentwood and Wingate have built up their teams over the last three or four years."

0 my! Barry's BATTS about ping pong

SNOOKER supremo and Leyton Orient FC chairman Barry Hearn was the surprise guest as the BATTS table tennis club in Harlow hosted their first 'Elite' Hard Bat tournament of 2011 on Saturday. Hearn was taking a look at the UK version of hard bat table tennis after recently running a huge event in America.

Going forward, Hearn is entering talks with Sky TV and is confident that they can be persuaded to televise a major hard bat event in the near future, which could lead to an upsurge in the sport.

International players from Holland helped to make the weekend's tournament at the Norman Booth Leisure Centre in Old Harlow a day to remember.

The hard bat rules are simple: BATTS provides the standard rubber bats and at the end of each end these had to be left on the table so that the next end would be played with the bat from that end. Scoring was 21-up.

All eyes were on Netherland's Marti Hendriksen, the 2010 WUTTO (Standard Bat) World Champion, who had ousted the incomparable Jan-Ove Waldner en route to the final.

However, this wasn't to be Hendriksen's day. He was beaten in the group stages by the in-form Fred Dove and in the competition proper he fell in the first round to a fired-up England No.3 veteran Chris Bartram 22-20, 21-18.

It was Hendriksen's team-mate, Martin Groenewold, who went on to take the title. Groenewold hit top form and raced through to the title without dropping a game.

He beat Paul Worrall (Staffs) 21-16, 21-8, fellow countryman Lars Adema 21-18, 21-14, the in-form Chris Knight (Kent) 21-7, 21-16 and in the final he nailed Bartram 21-19, 21-14. He took the title and the £250 first prize. Bartram reached the final by ousting Suffolk's Wayne Shaw (21-14, 21-10) and Nottingham's Trevor Kerry (21-13, 22-20).

The battle for third place between tried and tested hard bat specialist Kerry and Knight was as exciting a game as you are likely to see. Kerry fought back from 20-16 down in the final game to win a truly pulsating match 21-14, 21-21, 23-21.

BATTS supremo Neil Brierley said: "We had a fantastic tournament. Barry was very impressed and is seriously considering adding table tennis to his 'stable' of sports. He seems keen to work with us. Finding an hour-and-a-half for us on Saturday when Orient were playing at home and the World Snooker Championships were on demonstrates his intent."

Play-off heartache for Hawks

THE Hawks' promotion dreams were shattered as they were beaten by a resourceful Wingate & Finchley side at the penultimate hurdle.

Tuesday's play-off semi-final at the Abrahams Stadium went to extra-time after the first fiftful 90 minutes produced a 1-1 draw.

Wingate then took control, scoring three extra-time goals to go 4-1 up and Bertie Brayley's second goal on 115 minutes was too late.

Wingate will play Brentwood Town in the final after the latter won 3-1 at Needham Market in the other play-off semi-final.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "We played nowhere near to our potential and that is disappointing."

"We did not keep the ball well enough and we conceded sloppy goals."

A goalless first half saw Harlow's best opening come on six minutes.

A through pass from Leon Lalite released Brayley whose shot was blocked by the advancing home keeper Bobby Smith. He also blocked the rebound from Lee Roache.

At the other end, Wingate's influential forward Leon Smith teed up Josh Cooper on the right and his 20-yard shot flew across and just wide of the far post.

Both sides wasted openings before the deadlock was broken on 63 minutes.

Cooper's ball forward resulted in Leon Smith holding off Donny Barnard's challenge and poking the ball past Hawks keeper James Hasell into the net.

Harlow equalised on 75 minutes. A Steve Ferguson throw from the right was flicked on and Brayley cleverly stuck his left foot out in front of a defender and flicked it in at the near post.

Late Harlow pressure included several corners, and from one flag kick Leo Roget's goalbound header was brilliantly tipped away by the Wingate custodian.

The tie went to extra-time and Wingate scored twice on 95 and 99 minutes. David Laird's ball >>Continued on page 79
